DRAGONFIRE FARM & JENNIFER MCFALL ANNOUNCE SYNDICATION OF 4* HORSE HIGH TIMES

Jennifer McFall, of Wilton, CA announced today her plans to syndicate High Times. This syndication will offer ownership opportunities at an affordable cost for those interested in experiencing eventing as an owner with this proven four-star horse.

This syndication opportunity gives ten shareholders a chance to own a world-class horse. With career highlights that include completing his first CCI4* at Rolex Kentucky in 2014, wins at numerous horse trials, and a recent third place finish at the Rebecca Farm CIC3* in 2015, “Billy” is an exciting horse to be a part of looking to the 2016 season.

McFall is excited about creating this opportunity for potential owners saying, “I am very excited about the opportunity to have people join Billy and I in his prime years as owners. Syndicating him will allow us to take advantage of education opportunities, so that he can truly compete at the elite level I know he is capable of with the highest possible degree of success. This is not a one person (or one family) endeavor in my eyes, but rather something that will be most enjoyable to experience with a group. I feel like this horse really is "the people's horse". He is someone that a lot of people relate to with true talent that could hit big with the right support.”
